Precinct Conventions Quiet

Democratic Party precinct conventions in Randall County comparatively quiet, minutes of the meetings filed in the county clerk's office show.

Few resolutions were passed in the conventions, and only one dealt directly with the DOT-Conservative split. By late Tuesday afternoon, the last day for filing the minutes, no minutes had been received from Precincts 3, 4, 5 and 7. If the minutes are not filed, the delegations from those precincts cannot be seated at the county convention.

A total of 229 delegates can be sent to the county convention, which will be held at 8 p. m. Saturday in the district courtroom.

Delegate strength by precincts is 37 from Precinct 1, two from 2, four from 3, one from 4, three from 5, five from 6, two from 7, five from 8, 44 from 9, 28 from 10, 20 from 11, 27 from 12, 17 from 13; 30 from 14 and four from 15.

In precinct 1, Fred Rathjen was elected permanent chairman and Mrs. Elizabeth de Schweinitz permanent secretary. A slate of 37 delegates presented by Luther Hagard was adopted. The delegation is pledged to vote as a unit.

In precinct 2, Mrs. Edgar Robinson was named chairman and Mrs. Eugene S. Bonds secretary. The convention passed no resolutions.

Precinct 6 elected H. W. Burrus chairman and Mrs. Grace Costley secretary. It had no resolutions.

In precinct 8, H. P. Janssen was named chairman and Leonard Batenhorst secretary. There were no resolutions.

secretary. The convention passed a unit rule resolution and a second resolution commending precinct chairman Perry Powell for more than 25 years of service as a Democratic leader.

Precinct 13 elected Clark Jarnagin chairman. The convention passed a resolution instructing the delegates to the county convention to support a resolution requesting the state party organization to respect the wishes of the district caucuses and calling for all Democrats of the state to support the duly constituted party authorities.

Precinct 14's convention elected Jack Ritchie chairman and J. C.

Richardson secretary. The precinct adopted a resolution that condemns the use of the name "Democrats of Texas" and demands the usage be stopped.

In precinct 15, Walter R. Irwin was elected chairman and Mrs. Clyde C. Walters secretary. There were no resolutions.

Only 39 people showed up for the Precinct 1 convention Saturday night. The precinct rates 37 delegates to the county convention.

Toastmasters Plan Organization Here

Toastmasters International has issued a certificate of permission to organize a Toastmasters Club in Canyon. An organizational meeting will be held August 11, at 6:30 p. m. in the Blue Room of the college cafeteria. This will be a dinner meeting.

Those who are interested and unable to be present at 6:30, may come when they can. The meeting will adjourn at 8:30.

Purpose of the club will be explained, and definite steps toward formal organization will be taken.

Phyllis and Robbie Helmich of Yukon, Okla., spent a week with their grandmother, Mrs. J. D. Dowd. Their mother, Mrs. R. C. Helmich, and Paula came for them over the weekend, and the family is now visiting relatives in Minden, La., while the father, the Rev. R. C. Helmich, is attending an Air Force Training School in Montgomery, Ala.

Voters Return Office Holders

Randall County voters returned every local incumbent to office in the Democratic primary Saturday, and only one race on the ballot resulted in a runoff.

The county executive committee decided Tuesday afternoon to hold a runoff, and balloting will be Aug. 23. Absentee voting will begin Monday.

On the ballot will be J. Edwin Smith and Robert W. Hamilton, running for Associate Justice, Supreme Court, Place 1. That is the only statewide race that requires a runoff.

Voting in the primary Saturday was fairly light with about 4100 out of 7000 eligible. County voters favored William Blakely over Ralph Yarborough, reversing the statewide trend. Results from other races in the county were about the same as across the state.

The tightest race in the primary was between Roy Joe Stevens and Burney Slack for county judge. Slack carried all of the boxes outside Amarillo, while Stevens won the Amarillo boxes. As returns came in from over the county Saturday night, Slack led Stevens until the last box reported.

Stevens won the election by 114 votes.

The candidates nominated in the primary Saturday and in August will be named on the general election ballot in November.

The vote was canvassed by the executive committee Tuesday afternoon and declared official.

WATER USE DROPS MORE

Night time rains during the past week cut Canyon's water consumption still further, with a total of 6,200,700 gallons being used between Tuesday of last week and Monday of this week.

For the same period last year, the usage was 12,391,100 gallons—showing a drop of 6,190,400 gallons last week.

For the seven-day period preceding the last week's report, consumption was 9,172,700 gallons.

Consumption by days during the past week was 785,100 Tuesday, 902,000 Wednesday, 1,263,800 Thursday, 1,016,200 Friday, 846,600 Saturday, 649,600 Sunday and 737,400 Monday.

'Nig' Calliham Leaves West Texas For Vet Position at Texas A&M

Dr. M. R. "Nig" Calliham, professor and head of the agriculture department at West Texas State College since February 1952, has resigned to accept a post at Texas A&M College, President James P. Cornette has announced.

Dr. Calliham will become head of the department of veterinary medicine and surgery at Texas A&M Sept. 1.

A graduate of Texas A&M, where he earned his B.S. and D.V.M. degrees, Dr. Calliham came to WT from the Pan Tech Field Laboratory, where he was in charge of research.

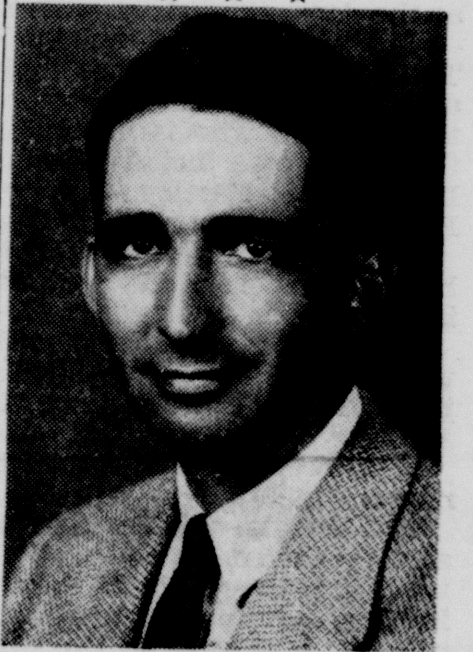

Born in Conway, Dr. Calliham was graduated from Canyon High School. He worked in Texas A&M's cattle barns for three years while attending college and earned his B.S. in 1941. He served from 1941 until 1946 in the Army, and was discharged as a captain.

After re-entering Texas A&M, Dr. Calliham was a laboratory assistant in the School of Veterinary Medicine for four semesters. He was employed at the Amarillo Veterinary Clinic as an undergraduate assistant and then practiced veterinary medicine at the clinic in 1949 until he went to the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Pan Tech Farms. He was associate veterinarian and project leader of research on wheat poisoning of livestock. In 1950, he was placed in charge of the laboratory.

While at Pan Tech, Dr. Calliham worked closely with 4-H Clubs, Future Farmers of America, and Veterans Training School groups from the Panhandle area.

Dr. Calliham has served extensively over the area as a judge for livestock contests, and has been active in working with the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo. He served as superintendent of the fair's dairy show, and for the past three years was superintendent of 4-H and FFA livestock judging contests.

Currently a member of the agriculture committee of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce. Dr. Calliham is also a member of the board of directors of the Canyon chamber. He is a troop committedman for Canyon's Troop 66 of the Boy Scouts. He was formerly Sunday School superintendent of the Canyon First Methodist Church and is a past president of the Randall County Junior Livestock Association.

Dr. Calliham is executive secretary of the Performance Registry International, formerly the American Beef Cattle Performance Registry Association. He is a member of the American Society of Animal Production, Texas Veterinary Medical Association, Panhandle Veterinary Medical Association, and American Veterinary Medical Association. He formerly was president of the Panhandle group and a member of the executive committee and treasurer of the state association.

Dr. and Mrs. Calliham and their three children will move to College Station about Sept. 1.

Postage Increase Set for Friday

Cost of mailing first class matter will be increased from three to four cents for the first ounce or fraction thereof, effective Friday, says Marion Higdon, Canyon Postmaster.

The cost of "penny" postcards will be increased to three cents. First class airmail postal cards will go from four to five cents, and airmail letters will become seven cents for the first ounce. The present airmail rate for letters is six cents.

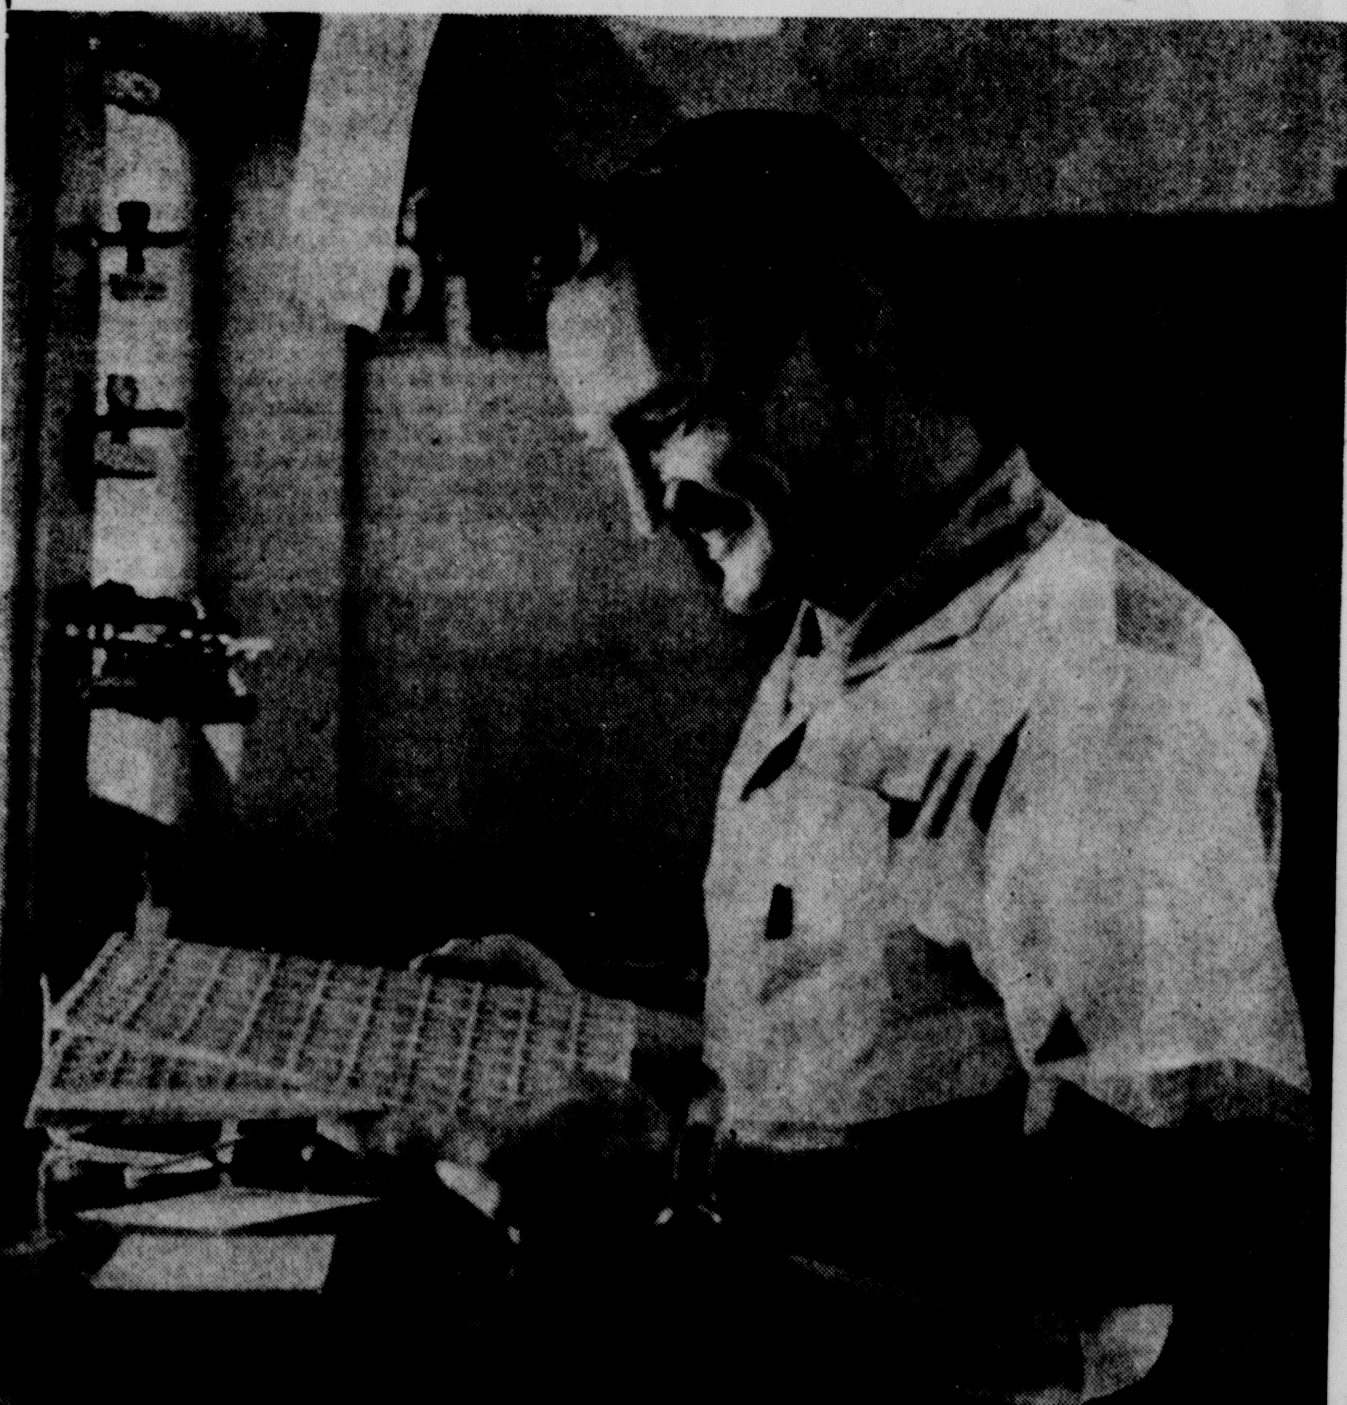

Although new denominations of postage stamps are being issued to meet the increased rate, these new stamps are not necessary as long as the correct amount of postage is attached to the letter, card or package. A one cent stamp added to three cent stamps for letters or two cent post cards will give sufficient postage, Higdon said.

Third class mail weight limit will be raised from eight ounces to but not including 16 ounces. Rates for this mail will go to three cents for the first two ounces, and each additional ounce will cost one and one-half cents instead of one cent for each additional ounce.

Bulk rates for third class mail will not change until January 1, 1959, but on and after Aug. 1, 1958, the present bulk rate and the new single piece rate will apply to articles weighing up to 15 ounces.

Transient second class matter rates will be raised to two cents for the first two ounces and one cent for each additional ounce, at a two cent minimum.

Look 'Em Over

Postal Clerk Hampton Lisle checks a stack of four-cent stamps—the ones that will be used beginning Friday for first-class letters.

Little League Action

Donald Breitling's first pitch was a strike against Dumas last Wednesday in Pampa. Dumas won the game 9-2, then came to Canyon to beat Pampa and Littlefield for the District championship. The Dumas team played Lubbock Monday in the tournament in Rotan and won 3-2. They were scheduled to meet Abilene Tuesday, but no report of the game has been received.

Not Too Many Cared

So the Democratic primary election is over, and it's just as we figured. There weren't too many who cared enough about their government to go vote.

It's not that they didn't go to the polls because they were Republicans. Not at all. There were only five Republicans who attended the Republican precinct convention in the commissioners court-room.

It's simply that not many people care who runs the government.

We predicted that less than 4500 people would vote in the election, and that's what happened. The total vote was about 4200.

There were 6293 poll tax receipts and exemption certificates issued in February. In addition, there are probably 600 to 700 over-age voters who do not need an exemption certificate to vote. The total possible vote was most likely in the neighborhood of 7000.

The 4200 vote was something like 60 per cent of possible. That's shameful, and there's no way around it.

If county, state or federal taxes go up, or if the amount of service given by the three governments goes down without a resulting tax decrease, 40 per cent of the people have no right to kick about it.

If the governments aren't run to suit the 40 per cent, let them remember they didn't take the opportunity to say how they wanted their government run.

Those are the facts of life, and we suppose that one of the freedoms we have in the United States is the freedom to be so blase and naive as to refuse to take an interest in our government.

Amendment List

This week The Canyon News begins publication of nine constitutional amendments that will be voted upon in the general election in November. The amendments range from a hospital district for Amarillo to a change in the sessions and pay of state legislators.

The entire amendment is printed in each of the nine cases. In later issues of The News we will attempt to explain each amendment and give as many reasons as we can find for and against the amendments.

It would not hurt any voter to take the time to read the text of the amendments. It will take a little time, but the amendments are printed on one page so that they can be taken out of the paper and saved for a later day.

Facts Verified

Anyone who doesn't believe that the voters in South Amarillo can and will control the voting of Randall County has only to look at the election returns to see where they're wrong.

In the race for county judge, Burney Slack carried each of the boxes outside Amarillo and carried the absentee vote, too. But Roy Joe Stevens won in the six boxes in Amarillo and won the election by 114 votes.

When the voters in South Amarillo finish waking up to that fact, it's going to take a powerful lot of persuasion to get them to vote along with the remainder of the county on any issue.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS By BOYCE HOUSE

The wheel of fortune which gave you ten to one if you won — which you didn't — was a center of attraction at the carnival in a small town. Only one man was playing and he lost steadily, five or ten dollars at a time. He had been drinking and friends tried to persuade him to quit but he continued until he had dropped all he had, a couple of hundred dollars.

Some of the crowd muttered at the cleaning of their fellow townsman and the man in charge closed the concession for the night.

Next night when he reopened, he began to spin the wheel and to chant his seductive spiel.

A country fellow halted and the operator addressed him, "Come over, neighbor, and try your luck; pick the winning number and win ten for one." Actually, although the odds sounded attractive, they should have been at least fifty to one — even if the wheel had been honest, which it was not.

It was customary however to let the first player or two win a bet; it was good for business. The sight of a man winning ten dollars on a venture of one dollar always drew a flock of suckers.

The country fellow looked uncertain and then, his face reflecting that he had made up his mind, he drew closer. Three or four others drifted over.

Silas Cornstassel held up his left hand which clutched a folded bill and said: "Ten to one? I'll try you, Mister; No. 69."

"Yes, sir; here's a man with red blood in his veins," sang out the operator. "He's a real sport." And he spun the wheel.

By this time a dozen men were watching. The wheel slowed down and stopped.

The operator said, "What do you know! Number 69. Friend, you win," and he counted out ten one dollar bills on the counter.

Silas slowly opened his left hand and displayed the bill he was holding. The denomination was one hundred dollars.

"Ten for one, you said," the bumpkin, whose expression did not look so bumpkinish any more, declared.

"That's right — ten for one!" chorused the crowd and the men closed in.

The owner of the carnival was summoned and he paid the thousand dollars.

The lucky man hunted up the

What Our Neighbors Say . . .

Scissor Snippings

George Dolan in the Fort Worth Star Telegram: John Durham, now a member of the state comptroller's staff, used to be a traveling salesman. His favorite traveling salesman story is unique in two ways: First, it doesn't involve a farmer's daughter; second, it's true.

It's an experience that happened to a salesman friend, who sold supplies to drug stores.

This salesman was talking with a druggist in a small town one day when a tall, singularly unattractive woman walked into the store.

The salesman looked at her in amazement. She was a six-footer who was wearing a man's hat and she was so unpretty that the salesman felt called upon to mention it.

"Look at her," he said, nudging the druggist. "That's the ugliest woman I've ever seen in my life."

"Well," replied the druggist, "maybe so, but she's a mighty good woman."

"Do you know her?"

"She's my wife."

The salesman slunk out, drove to the next town and decided to share his misery with the druggist there.

He told the druggist of his experience and exclaimed: "I'm so embarrassed, I'll never say anything about anybody again."

"Well," mused the druggist, "one thing about it—he was right. She is a mighty good woman."

"Do YOU know her, too?" gasped the salesman.

"Yes," said the druggist. "She's my sister."

Douglas Meador in the Matador Tribune: Man's personal objection to the sack dress is that it leaves too much work for his imagination.

Harold Hudson in the Ochiltree County Herald: Alaska is the biggest state — but we can't understand what advantages there are to statehood. States are to be defended by the U. S. military, but will add state taxes to pay for the schools, the roads, the other things that the federal government has been providing. There may be some advantages to being a state but in these days of high taxes, we are skeptical about them.

Dave McReynolds in the Friona Star: Members of the Friona Lions Club were all "shook up" last week and came near impeaching the secretary-treasurer, Bill Nochols.

The only reason they didn't, it was rumored, was that the members were afraid they couldn't find anyone else who would be elected to fill the job.

Seems that Bill sent out the bi-annual statements for dues to the club in those familiar white envelopes with the Friona State Bank signature upon them.

We're sure y'all know the kind we're talking about—the kind the bank uses to inform you that you've overdrawn your account.

Anyhow, you could spot the members of the Lions Club just by the way they left the post office. They would walk down the street, thumbing through their mail and then spot the white envelope.

They would stop short, look around and quickly tear open the white missile and then after seeing what it was, would continue on their way muttering various oaths under their breath.

As a victim of the white envelope we were among those who caught their breath, and hope the Lions will furnish Bill with some envelopes the next time he needs to correspond with the members.

Ben Ezell in the Canadian Record: (Editor's note: Canadian had a bond election last week, and the issue carried. However, a broadside published by the "Committee on Truth" was distributed on the evening before the election. The same thing has happened in Canadian for the past several years on the evening before any city

Many citizens have asked us to name the "Committee on Truth" . . . but it isn't our critter and we decline to give it a name.

We also decline, this being a family newspaper, to mention any of the several names we've heard it called these past few days.

But we can describe it, after a fashion.

"The Committee on Truth" has several heads, but not a single face.

It has a voice, because there are those who can hear it and interpret its meaning through the printed word, but it has no visible body and no apparent guts.

It may be a poor relation of the Ku Klux Klan . . . but Klansmen covered themselves with fine white sheets while the "Committee" wears only a newspaper face.

It speaks loudly of "Facts" but its facts have no more substance than the Committee itself.

Its habits are irregular but predictable. It manifests itself on the eve of every city election . . . whatever the issue may be . . . and perfumes the air with its own peculiar version of "the Truth" with a capital "T."

Its "facts" are predictable, too. They are invariably contradictory of whatever the city officials, the city's auditors, the city's books, or The Canadian Record has stated them to be.

It's getting a little old . . . and there are unmistakable signs that it's losing most of its sting, though none of its venom.

It unquestionably belongs to Canadian, however, and it looks like we're stuck with it.

To misquote Shakespeare a little bit, "Tis a poor thing but our own" . . . so we may as well learn to live with it.

Lots of other towns have problems with juveniles . . . ours just happen to be older than average.

Just Straighten This a Little

Mrs. Mona K. Hildreth, county home demonstration agent, straightens a pocket on the suit worn by Carolyn Campbell, Highland 4-H Club girl. Carolyn will represent Randall County at the District I 4-H Club Dress Revue to be held Friday in Amarillo.

Carolyn Campbell Prepares for 4-H Dress Revue Friday in Amarillo

For the second time in two years, Randall County will be represented by Carolyn Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Campbell, at the District I 4-H Dress Review, to be held Friday at 9 a.m. in the Flame Room of the Pioneer Natural Gas Company in Amarillo.

The review will not be open to the public until 11 a.m.

Her 4-H work means keeping busy though. Before Friday, she has to bring her club records into judging shape. Records include news clippings, pictures, supporting records, clothing records for each year of club work and the details of making her garment for entry in the contest. Besides, Carolyn has to give her entry, two piece wool blend suit, one last pressing so it will be just right for the judging.

The winner of Randall County's dress review, Carolyn has completed over 20 4-H projects, including swine, clothing, food preparation, beef animals and gardening. On several occasions, she has been the only girl exhibiting swine in the showing. In both 1956 and 1957, she exhibited a champion at the county livestock show.

In 1956, she showed the champion Duroc gilt, and she exhibited the champion Black Poland China barrow in 1957.

Yet Carolyn has not made all her achievements in livestock raising. She has also won a blue ribbon on muffins and cookies at the county bake show, and this year was the sweepstakes winner of the county bake show. She will represent Randall County at the District contest at the Tri-State Fair in September.

In two years, she has made 21 garments for herself and others for members of her family. A member of the Highland 4-H Club, she is a junior leader this year. She has been local secretary, treasurer and a financial committee member. Adult leaders for the club are Mrs. Forest Gruner of Canyon and Mrs. Leroy Lamb of Wildorado.

Carolyn lives on an irrigated, well improved farm northwest of Canyon. In exchange for grains for her livestock projects, she helps with irrigating, plowing and chores. She provides ready-mixed feed herself.

Slated to be a senior at Canyon High School this fall, she is a member of the National Honor Society, Future Homemakers of America and the varsity basketball team. For the past three years, she has ranked in the upper one-quarter of her class.

Carolyn enjoys her 4-H work. "In addition to teaching me methods of doing things, 4-H has helped me to mix with more people and therefore overcome some of my timidity," she says.

Firemen Attend Training School

Bill Counsellor and Alfred Daniel, Canyon volunteer firemen, attended the Fireman's Training School July 20-25 at Texas A&M at College Station.

The pair attended classes and practical demonstrations on various methods of fighting fires and received instructions on up-to-date methods of combating fire damage. On their return, they will conduct a training school for the Canyon Volunteer Fire Department.

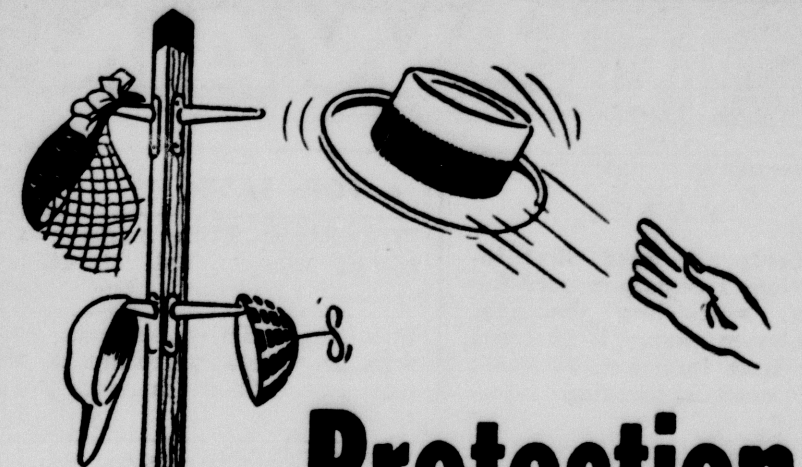

The spouse is giving the yard a new look. He's as excited as any housewife re-decorating her 20-year-old living room. The cherry laurel by the front door, long a round ball of shining greenery, is now trimmed up for an oriental look. The photomias at the corners of the house are undergoing the same treatment. The huge graceful willow is gone, and the house has emerged from its grove-like shelter.

He's at it early and late. At six he sneaks out of bed and dons trunks and gloves, to work feverishly for a couple of hours before he goes to work. At noon, he hardly greets us as he changes to work slacks and digs into another flower bed. Come closing time, it's the same. Great piles of vines and branches accumulate on the lawn.

But no matter how industriously he works, his plans and ideas stay days ahead. A brick terrace at the back, an island around the apricot tree, ivy trained on the solid wall to the west. His eyes get that faraway look as he outlines the things to come.

Only the neighborhood kids and the birds are disturbed by this revolution. As the huge willow came tumbling down, youngsters who have played every childhood game known beneath its boughs gathered reproachfully: "Why did you cut the tree down, Mr. A?" On the eaves of the house, a pair of doves looked on mournfully. It was their playground, too.

With a woman, it's clothes or draperies or travel that brings that starry-eyed look. But for the

Airmail Stamps Fluctuate in Prices; New 7 Center To Be Blue and White

When you start paying seven cents for airmail stamps Friday, remember that the cost was once 10 cents an airmail ounce. That was in 1925, and the charge covered only short distance airmail. Anything over 1,500 miles cost an additional 10 cents.

The first charge — in 1918 — was six cents, the same as the present rate. The money sometimes was wasted because the plane never reached its destination.

In 1932 the cost of airmail was eight cents, and two years later it was five cents — the all-time low. It was back to eight cents in 1944 and finally reached the present rate in 1949.

The new seven cent airmail stamp will be blue and white, featuring a silhouette view of the wing and fuselage of a jet airliner. The art work was done by William H. Buckley of New York, a member of the Post Office Department's advisory committee.

The stamp will first go on sale in Philadelphia tomorrow at the annual convention of the American Air Mail Society. Friday the stamp will be available in the nation's 36,605 post offices in sheet form and in 500 and 3,000 stamp coils.

Stamp collectors who desire first day covers may send self-addressed envelopes with a money order to cover the cost of stamps to the postmaster at Philadelphia, 4, Pa.

The present 6 cent stamp will still be worth six cents in 2058. It seems as though there are too many of them around to become more valuable, according to the post office's directory of philately.

The last mistake made in printing stamps was made about ten years ago on some three centers, and that was only a missed perforation. So don't knock yourself out looking for mistakes on the new stamps.

The most famous of postage mistakes did happen on airmail stamps though. A single sheet of upside-down airmail stamps was printed. Today one of these is worth $4,000.

Peaches Head USDA Food List

This year's crop of freestone peaches is king-size — the largest since 1947. Present indications point to a national crop of 19½ million bushels, nearly a fourth larger than last year, and slightly more than a fifth above the 10-year average.

This abundant supply has placed peaches on the USDA's plentiful foods list for August, reports the Agriculture Marketing Service as a featured food. Other fruits carried on the list are fresh and processed lemons and watermelons.

Abundant supplies of potatoes and summer vegetables are also forecast for August. Tomatoes, sweet corn, green beans, lima beans, green peppers, cucumbers, lettuce and onions are among the vegetables expected to be plentiful next month.

The early summer potato crop is estimated at nearly 10 million hundredweight, or 6 percent above last year. Harvesting of the early summer crop is running late in all areas and marketing is likely to continue into August, says the Marketing Service. Late summer outputs also will be abundant if acreage intentions are met.

Vegetable fats and oils round out the August list. Prospects for another large soybean crop, plus a carryover from last year, assure a plentiful supply for the months ahead.

'Out of Frying Pan' Scheduled for Palo Duro Players Beginning Friday

One of those frothy, hilarious comedies which enjoyed a good round on Broadway, on the road, in the movies, and which has been a favorite among acting groups from the high school thespians to the professionals, "Out of the Frying Pan," will be produced Friday through Aug. 5 by the Palo Duro Players at West Texas State College.

The show, directed by William A. and Margaret Moore, will be staged intimate theatre style in the Branding Iron Theatre. Curtain-time each night will be 8:15 p.m., and admission will be 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for children.

The story, familiar to many television viewers who saw it produced on Matinee Theatre last year, deals with three young men and three young women who wish to become actors. Because of financial difficulties, they share an apartment in New York, and it just happens that the apartment is above the residence of a producer who is in process of casting a new show.

Problem is to get the producer upstairs to see their talent for the show — they have been rehearsing the parts. Being an amateur chef, the producer one day wanders upstairs to borrow a cup of flour, and to impress him, the group stages a murder-mystery — with such realism that police swarm over the apartment.

Appearing in lead roles are Jerry Williams of Canyon as George Bodell, Tommy Culpepper of Canyon as Tony Dennison, Robert L. Antrim as Mr. Coburn, Marty Hinson of Groom as Kate Ault, and Roberta Hickman of Canyon as Dottie Coburn.

Others are Don Hickman of Canyon as Norman Reese, Pina Sturdivant of Matador as Mrs. Garnet, Jo Metcalf of Vega as Muriel Foster, Ruth Ann McDaniels of Canadian as Marge Benson, Roy Lowe of Amarillo as Mr. Kenny, W. E. Burden of Shamrock as Mac, and James Sturdivant of Matador as Joe.

The comedy will be presented Friday and Saturday nights, and again on Monday and Tuesday nights.

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

The political explosion in the Midwest swept everything off the front pages and the foremost spots on television and radio broadcasts. This included the much publicized Adams-Goldfine hearings, which will probably be suspended for awhile until other legislative business can be taken care of before adjournment.

However, it can be expected that the Adams-Goldfine hearing will continue as soon as time permits. The people of this country are entitled to know the full story as to what has or has not happened with relation to the conduct of the administrative agencies of this government. These agencies occupy a quasi-judicial status in our economy, and in many instances their powers exceed those of the courts. Under the circumstances, side door entries and influence peddling cannot be tolerated in the slightest. The Midwest situation has unified this country as it should. The developments in that part of the world were probably anticipated but not expected. It was generally felt in Washington that anything could happen, but apparently few people expected it to happen when it did and where it did.

This has caused deep concern in many parts of the Nation's Capital, and these questions are being asked repeatedly: "Where was our Intelligence?" "Was there a lack of knowledge of cooperation?" Apparently, it was one or the other. The intelligence agency of this government is under the jurisdiction of the Executive Branch and has been headed for several years by Allen Dulles, the brother of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Within the past few months two incidents have occurred about which the government of this country, if not all of the people, should have had ample advance warning. The first of these was the occurrence in the Latin American countries when the Vice-President of this country was spat upon by angry and demonstrating mobs who obviously were spurred into action by a long, smoldering feeling of hatred and ill-will as to some of the policies of this government. At that time I wrote a newsletter in which I posed the question as to whether or not the intelligence agency of this government was at fault. Subsequently, I was told in private that the intelligence agency knew of the ill feeling and unrest in those countries and had warned the Vice-President; further, that the intelligence agency of this country was second to none in the world.

Yet only a few short months later the leaders of the American Congress are called to the White House unexpectedly and on an emergency basis and advised that developments have occurred in a Midwest country which could destroy the peace of the world.

The country in which these occurrences took place was a country which has received much of the foreign aid money of this country; a country which we had counted on as friendly and a military ally, and a country which has as its capital the city that furnished the name for the Baghdad Pact.

These and many other smaller incidents connected with the overall development are causing many people in Washington, including myself, to wonder just what has happened to our Intelligence. The revolt in Iraq was not developed in a few minutes. It is undoubtedly the result of extended and detailed planning. Certainly if our intelligence departments did not know what was happening in this instance, how much more is going on that is not known.

If the intelligence departments did know what was going on, then the question arises as to why the Executive Branch of this government did not keep in close touch and liaison with the Legislative Branch of the government — the branch that is most closely associated with the people, who, after all, are the government.

Our country will unite as it always has against any common foe, but in my opinion, it is high time that the White House took a long look at the intelligence agencies of this government and made some corrections. Otherwise, it can expect the Congress to do the job.

Farmers To Attend State FB Meeting

Several Randall County Farm Bureau leaders will attend the 10th annual Texas Farm Bureau Institute Aug. 3-6 at Mineral Wells, according to R. B. Gist Jr., president.

Purpose of the institute is to train leaders with specific responsibilities in county Farm Bureau organizations in the performance of their respective duties, Gist said.

Those from Randall County planning to attend are W. T. Robinson, G. A. Dietz, John Butler and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Frank.

The institute curriculum consists of courses covering practically all county Farm Bureau activities, including procedure for conducting meetings, public speaking, history and philosophy, membership acquisition, the role of women, legislative activities, service to membership, analyzing current agriculture problems and public relations. Instructors will be state staff personnel.

In addition to regular courses, general assembly sessions will be held featuring discussion of two different phases of agricultural economics by national-known authorities. Mrs. Kathleen Knipe of Chicago, educational director of the Chicago Board of Trade, will discuss commodity market functions. Dr. Harry M. Love, economist from Virginia Polytechnic Institute, will analyze issues involved in current agricultural matters.

Esther Plank of Tom's River, N. J., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Plank, for the summer while she is teaching education at West Texas State College.

Canyon Drive-In Theatre open every night starting August 1st. Adults 50c — Children under 12 FREE.

ORTHO SPRAY-ETTES

Spraying is easy—when you use an Ortho Spray-Ette. Your garden hose provides the pressure; your Spray-Ette automatically mixes, in the proper proportion, the spray material and water, and it comes out as properly diluted spray. The Spray-Ette 4, for instance, is the equivalent of a four gallon sprayer . . . that means that when you have turned the nozzle on and have "sprayed out" the contents of the jar, you have sprayed four gallons of diluted spray.

2 CHS Students Attend Workshop

Two Canyon High School students are among the 11 students attending a High School Speech Workshop at Texas Tech under the direction of Dr. P. Merville Larson, speech department head.

The two week workshop will continue through Saturday.

Attending the workshop are Bill Cornette, junior, and son of Dr. and Mrs. James P. Cornette, and Barbara Kay Myers, senior, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Myers.

The workshop includes dramatics, declamation, debate, discussion, extemporaneous speaking, poetry reading and radio and television instruction. Students may participate in as wide a variety of activities as possible depending on their interests.

Four one-act plays will implement the course in acting. The plays are the recognition scene from "Anastasia," "A Minuet," an adaptation of Amy Lowell's poem "Patterns," and scenes from Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew." All the students have parts in the plays.

Cornette will be in "Patterns" and Miss Myers will portray the Grand Duchess in "Anastasia."

Presentation of the plays and demonstrations of debate and extemporaneous speaking will be at 8:30 p. m. Friday in the Speech Building auditorium on the Tech campus.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

According to the Supervisors of the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District now is the time to start thinking about your future crops and the needs of your soil.

The District recently purchased a legume seeder that will seed vetch, alfalfa, Austrian winter peas or rye in your row crops. The seeder is adjustable to fit different width rows and has plant guards to protect your crop. This seeder is high enough to prevent damage to crops. The crops most adapted to this type seeder are cotton and grain sorghums.

If you want to seed a cover crop in your cotton or maize middles, you can rent this legume seeder from the F. F. A. Supervisor at the Canyon High School.

The Randall-Potter District now has the following equipment to be rented to farmers and ranchers in this district: one two-yard scraper, one Eversman land leveler, two grass drills, two John Bean sprayers (one for weeds and one for insects), one fertilizer spreader, and one high boy legume seeder. This equipment is being maintained and rented to farmers and ranchers by the Canyon High School F. F. A. Chapter.

The management of crop residues is an important farming practice in this district. Proper management of crop residues prevent soil blowing or washing, aids in water penetration, improves soil productivity, adds organic matter and other such benefits.
